

Significance of the Herrin Horror and Failure to Mete Out Justice to the Guilty

Strikingly Presented in Brief of Operators Filed With Coal Commission.

PURSUANT TO U.M.W. PLAN

To Prevent Any Person Not a Member from Mining a Ton or More Declared to be "Deliberate, Pre-meditated Conspiracy to Encourage Union Monopoly or Mine Labor."

WASHINGTON May 28.—In a brief detailing the facts of the Herrin massacre and the two trials which failed to convict anyone for the 20 murders, counsel for the Bituminous Operators' Special Committee has charged before the United States Coal Commission that the verdicts of acquittal for the individual defendants were in reality verdicts of guilty against the United Mine Workers of America.

The document charges throughout that the United Mine Workers, as an organization, planned and executed the crimes and by terrorism and the use of a special check-off of approximately $900,000 together with community intimidation prevented the guilty from being brought to justice.

The entire affair according to the brief, was in pursuance of an avowed purpose of preventing by person not a member of the United Mine Workers of America from mining a ton of coal during strike by the union and was designed to help starve the public into tolerating submission to the union's strike demands.

This is the system as a letter accompanying the brief which John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers are avowedly attempting to extend over all the 30 states of the Union where bituminous coal is mined. What has taken place in Herrin was due to no accidental, sporadic outburst of mob spirit. The events in the five different counties of Ohio at ready covered by our Ohio brief and evidence the events in Northeastern Kentucky, covered by our Kentucky brief; the events in Indiana, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Utah, Colorado, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri, to be covered by our committee on those regions completely dispel any such comfortable hypothesis. Mob passions were undoubtedly aroused in Herrin eventually on that 22nd day of June last year but in Herrin, as in all these other cases, the original homicidal attack upon men who under the law of the land had committed no other offense than that of trying to work was pursuant to a deliberate premeditated conspiracy conceived and carried through to enforce the policy and monopoly of the United Mine Workers.

What took place in Herrin was the logical and inevitable result of the establishment of this Mine Workers super government in an American state. Such a result will inevitably follow its establishment in any other state just as soon as the aims and purposes of the super government run foul of the laws of that state.

The brief is the result of exhaustive study on the ground including attendance at the trials and makes no offer to prove no charges at open hearings.

In support of the contention that the United Mine Workers planned and executed the massacre, the brief relates that the march on the mine started from an early morning mass meeting of the union at which a telegram was read from John L. Lewis to regard the steam shovel members as any other common strike breakers adduces testimony of three hardware dealers that they were told to charge the commanded guns and ammunition to Herrin local and includes evidence, as given at the trials, of leadership by two prominent union officials in the killing expedition. The alibi testimony, it is maintained, is inherently incredible and a do not believe that it would have carried the slightest weight with a jury sitting in a different atmosphere.

The last act of the tragedy, the brief relates, occurred at the Herrin cemetery situated a little over a mile east of the town of Herrin. Six of the fugitives had been captured. They were wounded and bleeding. They were marched at about 8 o'clock in the morning through the streets of Herrin crowded with people—Herrin the city of 11,000 inhabitants with its paved streets and its modern improvements its bands and its churches. These poor tired and wounded prisoners were not even permitted to stagger along on their feet but in token of their subjection to the United Mine Workers of America were forced to crawl on their hands and knees with heads bowed low to the ground in the presence of hundred of men women and children.

Arrived at the Herrin Cemetery six men were tied together by a rope around their necks. They were then deliberately shot down in cold blood in the presence of a very large number of people and the wounded lying on the ground had their hands cut off.

The events of last June in Herrin, it is claimed, were the result of a plot to prevent any person not a member of the United Mine Workers of America from mining a ton or more.

Coal Research Work Will Be Continued By Carnegie Tech

Two more research fellows will be added to the staff of the Mining Department at Carnegie Institute of Technology next year to continue the important coal mine investigations now being conducted in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Mines. A meeting of the advisory board of coal mine operators held recently in Pittsburgh various problems were suggested for research and two companies agreed to finance the employment of additional research technicians.

court unrebuked have claimed hellish rights for those killers—the rights of soldiers waging honorable battle against wrong. And it has triumphed. Murder is no longer murder in southern Illinois. The attorney general chief law officer of Illinois which will finance the employment of one of the investigators has recommended that the research fellow work on this problem. The following of the Illinois State Coal Company which will also finance the research recommendation of the gas industry in fighting mining fires be investigated.

The employment of two more technicians will increase the staff to six to be selected by the cooperative department of mining engineers, Carnegie Tech and to work with the Bureau of Mines. It is the second year of research work on coal mining right-of-way problems will be completed.

Among the problems suggested by the operators for attack next year are continuation of the study of the correction of coal beds of Western Pennsylvania through their microscopic constituents, extension of the study of bituminous waters to the actual tests of various experimental machinery parts in the mine and mine car gear and lubrication.

SAFETY WITHOUT MARRING
BEAUTY OF BUILDINGS.

Everybody wishes that every necessary safety precaution is taken in the construction and equipment of buildings in the city. At the same time it is just as earnestly desired that hand some structures especially those of the principal streets, be kept free of unsightly encroachments in the form of fire escapes or that they be so arranged that they will detract as little as possible from the appearance of the buildings and the streets.

Just now public attention is being directed to this matter by the fire escape built on the Apple Street side of the Citizen's National Bank building. The lower section has under orders of the chief factory inspector of the state, been so arranged that it hangs direct across the principal windows of the first story and at a comparatively short distance above the sidewalk. In this position the fire escape not only interferes with the lighting of the bank room but forms an object across the front of the windows which spoils the architectural beauty of the building.

The original location of the lower section, as planned by the architect, placed it between the windows of the first and second stories, leaving the first floor or banking room, entirely free of obstruction except when the section is lowered to the sidewalk which will never be done except in a case of emergency. By this arrangement the objections to the installation of the device on this part of the building would be reduced to the minimum and it would be much less an eyesore in the neighborhood than if allowed to remain in its present position.

To the average citizen who has viewed the situation there appears to be no reason whatever, unless it be some official whim why the fire escape cannot be arranged as the architect had originally planned. The pride our citizens have in making our city attractive to the eye of both residents and visitors ought to be given recognition and encouragement whenever as in the case in point it can be done without harm or injury to any interest and without violation of any rules of safety.

RACING TO FIRES.

No sympathy will be lost on persons who are fined or even sent to jail for driving automobiles at a break-neck speed through the streets in an effort to beat the fire trucks to a fire. It is an offense against the traffic laws and ordinances just as much as fast driving under any other circumstances. It is even more dangerous to pedestrians and other vehicles because the coming or passing of the fire trucks detracts the attention from unexpected dangers such as automobiles racing through the streets in the same direction.

While responding to an alarm a few days ago one of the trucks was compelled to slow down until it was learned which of two directions a fast driven automobile in front was going to take. Delays of any kind when the fire fighting apparatus is on its way to a fire may involve great loss of property and under certain circumstances, loss of life.

The siren is warning to everybody to clear the streets for the fire trucks, not a signal for some hare-brained driver to try to reach the scene of the fire first. Such stunts not only imperil the life and limb of people on the streets but may impede the progress of the trucks. They are uncalled for and a senseless performance. Fire Chief DeBolt will be commended for his determination to put a stop to the practice. If other offenders are apprehended they might better realize the seriousness of their offense if they were given a jail sentence instead of being fined.

UNDERWEIGHT CHILDREN.
The results of the nutrition demonstration given at the Scottside schools by Miss Bertie Collins of the home economics extension service of Pennsylvania State College are well worth study by parents of children who are overweight.

For a period of three months the men of the school fed 16 children with a diet of milk, bread and cereals and served a pint of milk a day at school. The actual gain in weight during the test ranged from one to four and one-fourth pounds, the average for the class being 2½ pounds. Further, it was observed that during the period of the test there was a marked change for the better in the appearance of the children. They themselves reported that they are sleeping more soundly and milk and eating more vegetable and cereals and less candy.

It is a well established fact that underweight children have low resistance to disease of various forms and contract cold easily. The test shows very conclusively that by the observance of simple health rules and with enough to allow boys to capture the nourishing foods, plenty of sleep, cholicastic diuretics once in a while fresh air exercise cleanliness and proper care of the teeth the physical condition of children can be improved.

Such results being so easily obtainable parents certainly will not hesitate to cooperate with the agency that is being provided without cost to them for the purpose of making their children more robust and vigorous and better able to resist disease.

C. H. S. CLASS OF '23.

It is no disparagement of any preceding graduating class of the Connellsville High School to say that the class of 1923 is exceptional in several particulars. Instead it is merely to observe the changes passed years have wrought in relation to certain facts associated with the completion of the High School course by young men and young women.

The present class is larger and the division between the sexes is more nearly equal than in the history of local graduating classes. To the unobserving these facts may have little importance but they are of very considerable significance to those who keep themselves in rather close touch with the progress of our schools.

While the normal increase in population means of course that each succeeding year will show a larger enrollment the gain in the number of students completing the High School course is not in the same ratio as the gain in the enrollment. That is larger and the proportion of males to females graduates is greater than heretofore has been held in the possession of the Kawans Club in proportion as they avail themselves of the advantages it provides just so will they derive benefit therefrom and enlarge their capacity to serve the best interest of the community of which they are a part.

LEARNING TO DO PRACTICAL THINGS IN SCHOOL.

Those of the public schools who are wont to complain that their children are not being taught to do things of practical value and utility ought to be present in the High School to witness the work of the students for very frequently the students are taught to clean and paint and to repair furniture and to make and mend clothes and to wash laundry and to cook and to clean house and to do all sorts of other useful work.

Theanne exhibition of the work done in the art department of the school is an annual training display which is so complete and includes a wide range of objects and such substantial evidence of skill direct in technical and practical arts in proportion that it could not be bettered than the exhibition of even the most refined and faultless display.

Moreover the display as a whole showed that the girls in the senior class the number of boys has not this year been materially less than the number of girls.

This class comprise almost 9 percent of the membership of the class of 1923 becomes a matter of very much interest to the school administration and the parents of the boys who have held steadfast in their determination to profit by the advantages our very excellent school have to offer. No less so is it to the public which with each recurring commencement time is glad of the opportunity to extend cordial congratulations to the graduates and to express the very sincere wish that their hopes and ambitions for their future success may be fully realized.

EVIDENCE BY FIFTY FARMERS.

Progressive dairymen have everywhere learned that improvement in the quality of their herds in the interest of increasing the butterfat content of milk produced is one of the essentials to profitable operation of a dairy farm. The present day practice of milk purchasers is to make it a percentage of butter fat the basis for payment. It follows that milk which is high in butter fat yields a better return to the producer than an equal quantity which is lower in this constituent.

Experience having demonstrated that it costs very little to raise a thoroughbred cow whose milk is high in butter fat than it does to raise one that is a quantity rather than a quality producer will at a dairy farm replacing the latter by the former and with every assurance to themselves and the dairymen industry.

Fayette county dairymen are not behind other sections in this forward policy. Within the past few weeks the largest importation of blooded dairy stock in history in the history of the county has taken place. The cows have been distributed in different sections and will be used to recruit herds of more efficient milk producers for the purchasers and at the same time to enlist still other dairymen in a general plan of her improvement.

Such evidence of progress on part of dairymen shows that they are alive to the possibilities of modern methods in all that pertains to milk production just as they and other farmers of the county are to the development of the towns and the farmers of the adjacent sectors. The joint dinner to be held in Connellsville isn't that far off to provide the stimulus and the starting point of one, a genuine and sincere effort to better understand each other than a wholly new era in the agricultural and business progress of northern Fayette will date from that occasion.

After all the heat delayed by conflicting claims for the reward offered for the apprehension of the Jerry township firebug the fire took very strict precautions in evenly dividing it between the claimants. Mayor Mitchell makes no pretense of being an armchair expert but when he practices bloodless surgery on noses he seems to be able to restore hearing with precision and dispatch.

The girls of the Class of 23 H. S. can console themselves that they are better in the appearance of the children. They themselves reported that they are sleeping more soundly and drinking more vegetable and cereals and less candy.

It is a well established fact that underweight children have low resistance to disease of various forms and contract cold easily. The test shows very conclusively that by the observance of simple health rules and with enough to allow boys to capture the nourishing foods, plenty of sleep, cholicastic diuretics once in a while

LOCAL CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS WIN OVER UNIONTOWN

Banner for Attendance at County Meet Awarded to M. P. Society.

DELEGATION NUMBERS 126

Members of the Methodist Fratres that Church of Connellsville 126 strong in a special trolley car attended the first of a series of combined conference distal rallies of the Young Peoples Senior Christian Endeavor and Sunday schools of the Methodist Protestant churches of the Connellsville East End held Tuesday May 22 and evening at the First Methodist Protestant Church Uniontown. The series is being held under the direction of Rev O. W. Bolton of Dunbar president of the conference union. The meeting was presided over by the president of the Connellsville District, H. T. Williams.

Connellsville was awarded the attendance banner. The local delegation numbered about as many as the representation of the two Uniontown churches combined. Connellsville has held the banner for five years.

The Connellsville District embraces all of Fayette county and part of West Virginia extending to Fairmont.

The afternoon service which started at 1:45 was devoted to a short program of addresses and the hearing of reports. Short passages of Scripture were read by Rev Mr. Rodda of Fairchance. Mr. William gave a short talk outlining the purpose of the series of rallies in Washington Pittsburg and New Brighton districts and then introduced the speaker of the afternoon Rev E. A. Sennett, new secretary of the Young Peoples Board of Pennsylvania.

Rev Sennett gave an interesting and inspiring address on the topic "The School of Methods". In the course of his address he outlined the plans and program now under way for the purpose of meeting the needs of young people.

He was followed by Rev H. L. Elderidge president of Westminster Theological Seminary of Western U. S. who delivered an address on the topic "The Wayside Walks and Talks With Jesus".

Following supper there in the church by the Young People societies of both the First and Second churches the annual session convened at 7:45 with Mr. Williams presiding. A short musical program was rendered by the Connellsville intermediate orchestra followed by devotional exercises led by Rev J. H. Lamberton of Connellville.

The report of the nominating committee was received and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President H. T. Williams, vice president Ernest D. Williams, Connellsville; secretary treasurer Mrs. L. S. Gann, a native Dunbar. The officers were elected by Rev Sennett.

Rev Sennett was the principal speaker of the evening dwelling upon points brought out by the meetings and making suggestions as to plans to be carried on by the district during the year. He Elderidge the next speaker dwelt on the topic "The Guidance of Life Things". Howard Sennett proved highly interesting and full of significant points which were pointed out to those present in a most able manner.

The meeting was brought to a close with the benediction by Rev A. R. Scarman a retired minister of South Connellsville.

An announcement made after the meeting Rev. Bolton stated that plans are under way for the possible establishment of a school of methods at the State in Pittsburgh the latter part of July. So far the plans are only tentative but call for a period of five days instruction.

The next of the series who will be held at Waynesburg oval followed by meetings in Pittsburg and New Brighton Thursday and Friday.

125 Members of Uniontown Lodge At Templar Rally

Fayette countians who attended the convocation of Knights Templar of the State in Pittsburgh May 22 included the following:

Value of Proper Nutrition For Growing Children Given Demonstration at Scottdale

Conducted by State College
Through Co-operation of Schools.

EVERY CHILD MAKES GAINS

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTDALE, May 22.—Results of a nutrition demonstration given at the Pittsburgh street school through the co-operation of the school, the parents and Miss Bertine Collins of the home-economics extension service of Pennsylvania State College is found in the appended. The demonstration with the exception of three students covered the period between November 29, 1922, and March 26, 1923. The other three were entered for a shorter period of time.

For those entered three months the following statistics are given, the first column showing the weight on entering, the second the weight on leaving, the third the actual gain and the fourth the normal gain.

Name	W.	L.	N.G.
Irene Otto	39 1/2	40 1/2	1 1/2
Sarah Ringler	42	43 1/2	1 1/2
Dorothy Dwyer	41 1/2	42 1/2	1 1/2
Jeanne Schaeffer	46 1/2	47 1/2	1 1/2
Paul Albig	43 1/2	44 1/2	1 1/2
Billy Sloane	42 1/2	43 1/2	1 1/2
J. R. Dickerson	44 1/2	45 1/2	1 1/2
Ethel Helm	42 1/2	43 1/2	1 1/2
Frank Hayes	50	51	1
Hannah Duran	50	52	2
David Walther	50 1/2	51 1/2	1
Woodrow Lepler	44 1/2	45 1/2	1
Dorothy House	42 1/2	43 1/2	1

For the others the report shows that it had been sent to the lost department of the railroad and that in the process of "house cleaning" it was identified and returned.

There was no money in the bag; have been 62; weight on leaving, when it was lost.

William Howells—Entered January 29, left February 28; entering weight 54 1/2; should have been 56; leaving 54 1/2; gain 52 1/2; normal gain 1 1/2.

Edwin Canfield—Entered February 13, left February 28; entering weight 57 pounds; should weigh 57; leaving 58; gain 1 pound.

The greatest gain by my entrant was by Doris Aspey. The average gain for the class was 2 1/2 pounds.

In a great many cases the children gained more and then were sick and lost what they gained. Underweight children have low resistance to disease and contract colds, etc., readily. Some of the children are suffering from diseased tonsils, etc., which are pouring poison into their systems and their chance of gaining in health is not so good.

Recommendations—Beginning in the first month of the school have all children weighed and measured. Have all children underweight have milk at school. Have a fund provided for purchasing the milk if in any case the parents are not able to pay for it. Employ a Community or Red Cross Nurse to follow up the medical inspection in all of the Scottdale schools, teach care of children to parents and do whatever seems necessary.

In many towns the Red Cross Nurse is used for this purpose.

The purpose of the demonstration was to promote better food and living habits among children.

Impressing upon parents, any children the importance and relations of the underweight child.

Broader kinds of sufficient amounts of food in diet, sleep, fresh air, exercise, cleanliness, physical defects, such as diseased tonsils, etc.

The class was made up of sixteen children more than ten per cent underweight. The class met once a week and a definite food and health lesson was taught by Miss Collins. The children were weighed and the weight charted. Stars for awards were also given at this time for living up to health rules. Talks on health were also given in the other rooms of the building.

Home visits were made to explain the work and try to have physical corrections made that were recommended by the school doctors. Also to improve the habits of the children.

Bulletins from the Pennsylvania State College on Food and Living Habits for Children were given out.

Each child in the case purchased a pint of milk a day, which was served at the school in half-pint bottles with straws. This opportunity was opened to the school and 95 children in the Pittsburgh Street School and 52 children in the Chestnut Street School bought milk each day.

A great deal of credit should be given to the teachers who took charge of serving the milk and used their influence with the children. The teachers report that not as much candy appears at school as formerly and that there is a marked change to the better in the appearance of the children.

The school board bought scales for weighing the children, the straws for drinking the milk and the charts and stars for recording the weight each week.

The children themselves report that they are sleeping longer, drinking more milk, eating more vegetables and cereals, not eating so much candy and being more milk and water to drink.

Graduating Class

This Year Largest
In Local History

The class of 1923 is the largest graduated in the history of the school. Last year there were 20 in the class. Even without the out of town members the Class of 22 has 97 steadily in number for the past 10 years but the jump from 99 to 123 is the largest ever recorded.

Iron Bridge School Closes.

IRON BRIDGE, May 26.—The Iron Bridge School, taught by Miss Mary Miller of Alverton, closed Wednesday. On Tuesday a picnic dinner was served in the school building. The afternoon was spent in the woods. Four pupils were present every day during the term. They were Clarence Price, James Crosby and Charles and Edward Slaters. Each was given a remembrance. Miss Miller will attend the Slippery Rock Normal school for the summer term.

Miss Davis Highly Honored.

Mrs. Christine Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of South Connellsville, who will graduate from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music on June 5, has been highly honored by election as a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon. This is the honorary musical society the members of which are only those of high talent and merit as musicians. Miss Davis is already well known to Connellsville music lovers.

In New York Hospital.

Mrs. A. O. Stone, wife of Professor Stone, former manual training teacher in the Connellsville High School of Rutherville, N. J., underwent an operation for appendicitis in St. Luke's Hospital, New York, and is doing quite nicely according to word received. Mrs. H. L. Lohart of Nine street. The operation was performed yesterday.

Scottdale Woman
Sues for Divorce

GREENSBURG, May 20.—Brenda L. Daniels of Scottdale filed a bill in divorce against her husband, T. W. Sandbury. She says they have lived together one year and says he is a sensual being.

F. G. Arnett of Mount Pleasant has filed a bill in divorce against his wife, Josephine. Amicably, she claims she forced him to withdraw from his home.

Full story for The Weekly Courier.

10-POUND PLYMOUTH ROCK HEN LAYS EGGS ABOUT SIZE OF ROBINS'

Or, display in the windows of the Fisher Hardware Company is a nest of 15 Plymouth Rock eggs which are but little larger than those of the robin. The hen, which was owned by A. H. Woods of Connellsville, weighed 16 pounds. She never laid larger ones. She was recently killed.

Lost Handbag Returned After Three Years

Three years ago Mrs. George Walker Buckner, wife of the pastor of the Christian Church, lost a handbag containing her bank book, check book, the key to the front door of her home and some other articles of lesser value. Presumably she dropped it on a train between Uniontown and Connellsville. She notified the conductor but when he failed to locate it, then she gave up hope of finding it.

A recent evening when she returned to her home after day spent at Red Cross headquarters in Uniontown a parcel post package lay on the table. Opening it she found the missing handbag and its contents. There was no means of telling where the package was mailed.

Mrs. Buckner was of the belief that it had been sent to the lost department of the railroad and that in the process of "house cleaning" it was identified and returned.

There was no money in the bag,

53 1/2; gain, 1 pound.
